

Rockhampton Regional Council uses 536 closed circuit television (CCTV) surveillance cameras to monitor and record activity to ensure the security of Council staff and assets; and in areas where anti-social behaviour or criminal activity is more likely to occur.

In deploying CCTV cameras at the listed locations, Council will comply with all requirements of the Information Privacy Act 2009 (Qld) in relation to the handling of personal information. Signs have been placed in areas where activity is being monitored.

These cameras aim to provide a safer environment and reduce crime levels by deterring potential offenders and helping in crime detection.

CCTV cameras assist Council and the Queensland Police to work together to improve response times to crime and other emergencies. The installation of cameras was developed to:

- contribute to the provision of a safer physical environment
- assist Queensland Police to reduce crime levels by deterring potential offenders
- aid detection of crime, breaches of laws, identify offenders and assist with emergency response.

Types of incidents recorded

Incidents involving an emergency, criminal activity or the potential for criminal activity are recorded by the cameras. The cameras' primary focus is on pedestrian areas.

Storage of footage

Currently, due to different solutions used, the storage of electronic media varies from 1 to 4 weeks. If no request has been made to view or access footage during the set period, the electronic media is destroyed or overwritten.

Funding

The CCTV systems are fully funded by the Rockhampton Regional Council on an annual basis.

Access to footage

Images may only be viewed by authorised staff. Copies of recordings will not be made unless they are relevant to the purpose of surveillance, and recordings will not be made available for civil proceedings involving third parties except where required by law.

Circumstances under which recordings will be shown to a third party include:

- unlawful act (police)
- when otherwise required by the law (eg court order, etc)

Contact Rockhampton Regional Council on (07) 4932 9000 for more information on accessing camera electronic media.

Making a formal complaint

If you believe the camera program has been improperly used against you or someone you know, you can make a formal complaint in writing to:
